DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed on Apr. 27, 2005 have been fully considered.

Information Disclosure Statement

It seems that EP 0961 149 A2 is listed as 0961 146 A2 on PTO 1449 filed on Jan. 11, 2005. Applicant is requested to submit corrected PTO 1449.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wagner et al. (Wagner) (EP 0961149).

Wagner discloses an exposure apparatus comprising a projection optical system of a catadioptric type (Fig. 1, para 0025, 0029), an optical element (LZ) disposed on a light path to adjust a symmetrical aberration (h1) of the projection optical system (col. 5, lines 15-20).

Although Wagner does not disclose that the movable optical element is located in the reciprocal path, it is merely a slight constructional change, which comes within the scope of the customary practice because the skilled person is aware that transmitting twice an optical element that introduces symmetrical aberration results in a doubled aberration; hence movement of the element has an increased affect on aberration.

Claims 11-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nishi et al. (Nishi) (EP 1039509).

Nishi discloses an exposure apparatus comprising a projection optical system of a catadioptric type (Fig. 1 and 29, para 0029, 0070, 0085, 0320), an optical element disposed on a light path to adjust a symmetrical aberration (0320) of the projection optical system. Although Nishi does not disclose that the movable optical element is located in the reciprocal path, it is merely a slight constructional change, which comes within the scope of the customary practice because the skilled person is aware that transmitting twice an optical element that introduces symmetrical aberration results in a doubled aberration; hence movement of the element has an increased affect on aberration.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 11-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,707,532. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the patent and the instant application are directed to an exposure apparatus which corrects aberration of the projection optical system by moving an optical element located in the reciprocating light path of a catadioptric optical system.

Response to Arguments

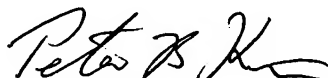

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
